BLAST-O-METER

THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE STINKY

Fast blast

Flying at 300 km/hr in a Formula One racing car, centimetres from the ground with the engine roaring behind your head. The ultimate!

Holiday blast

Forget flying to the moon! A five billion dollar hotel in Las Vegas will have zero gravity rooms and moon walking plazas when it opens in five years time.

Baby blast

Ever been in the same room as a screaming baby? They may look small and innocent but those things could shatter glass with their screeching!

Class blast

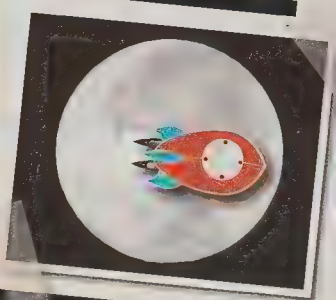

Getting sprung for something at school and copping a blasting from the teacher is the worst. It's mega embarrassing, especially in front of everyone!

Butt blast (yours)

Letting a big one rip is comedy on a grand scale! Best of all, your own bum trumpets never smell as bad to you as they do to everyone else!!

Bass blast

Nothing beats a live concert! Only snag? Rock stars blast your eardrums with about 120 decibels of noise. That's loud enough to cause hearing loss!

Diva blast

The shrill wailing from girly pop chicks like Hilary Duff and Mariah Carey is enough to make your ears bleed! And drive you nuts!

Butt blast (not yours)

Why is it that your own farts are hilarious, but other people's just don't seem as funny? Plus, they totally reek!

ROBOT RECEPTIONIST

Having a robot assistant would be a blast. It could answer the phone when you're on the loo or show your mates to the kitchen for an afternoon snack. Dream no longer! A Japanese electronics company has invented a receptionist robot to fulfil all your miscellaneous needs. Hello Kitty Robo greets visitors with a recorded voice message and then ushers them to a pre-arranged meeting point. Cool – put us down for one!

Far out facts!

These Guinness World Records are totally off the planet!

Longest Comet Tail

Extreme Tourism

American businessman Dennis Tito and South African internet millionaire Mark Shuttleworth each paid $27million for their trips into space to the International Space Station (ISS). The money they paid to the Russian Space Academy was a record in the world of tourism.

Great galaxies!

The remotest heavenly body visible with the naked eye is the Andromeda Galaxy in the constellation of Andromeda, known as Messier 31. It's a spiral galaxy over 2.2 million light years from Earth, and our galaxy is moving away from it. Sometimes, under very good conditions, Messier 33, the spiral galaxy in Triangulum, can occasionally be glimpsed by the naked eye at a distance of 2,530,000 light years.

Hot Stuff

Reckon an Aussie summer is a scorcher? Spare a thought for the poor aliens on Venus which has the hottest surface of any planet on the solar system, around 480 degrees Celcius. If you stepped on the surface of Venus you'd be simultaneously crushed by the pressure, incinerated by the heat, corroded by the sulphuric acid and suffocated by the carbon dioxide!

Really Big Bang

The largest recorded impact in the solar system occurred between July 16 and 22, 1994, when more than 20 fragments of the comet known as Shoemaker-Levy 9 collided with the giant planet Jupiter. The biggest impact was when the 'G' fragment hit with the energy of roughly 600 times the nuclear arsenal of the world, equivalent to six million megatons of TNT.

One Long Day

Venus has the longest rotation period (day) of all the major planets in the solar system. Venus takes 243.16 Earth days to spin once through 360 degrees. As it's closer to the Sun, the length of Venus' year is shorter than Earth's, lasting 224.7 days, so a day on Venus is actually longer than its year! Jupiter has the shortest day of the nine major planets in the solar system. It spins on its axis once every 9hrs 55mins.

The Quest Begins

Blast onto the high seas with the latest craze to hit our shores.

MEET THE STRAW HAT CREW!

NAMI – Navigator

While she'll always look out for No. 1, herself, Nami's quick wit and ability with a pike staff make her a valuable crew member. Too bad she hates pirates!

LUFFY – Leader

Fearless and an eternal optimist Luffy's dream of being 'King of the Pirates' is helped and hindered by his ability to stretch like rubber. Shame he can't swim.

SANJI – Chef

Sarcastic and rude this chef is often chasing girls – yuck! His belief that hands should only be used for cooking leaves him with an odd fighting style, using his feet.

USOPP – Marksman

He may be the town liar, but Usopp does know his way around a slingshot. He's a lot like Luffy except he lacks one important trait, bravery.

ZOLO – Swordsman

Better accustomed to chasing pirates than being one, Zolo is an expert swordsman. Using the three-sword Santoryu fighting style he aims to be the world's greatest.

CHOPPER – Doctor

This blue-nosed reindeer doesn't make friends easily, lucky for him this is a crew of misfits. Brought up by Dr Hiriluk, his medical skills are used for patching up more than scratches.

ANIME Q&A

Anime is blasting off, so K-Zone's mission to tackle all your tricky questions is locked and loaded!

If your question or drawing was published this month, you'll score a copy of the cool new DVD My Neighbor Totoro thanks to the guys at Madman.

Q. Are the makers of Yu-Gi-Oh! in any way linked to the makers of Duel Masters?

[redacted]

A. Although they both have similar themes, the creators of both series are not linked in any way. They were both created by different companies and started at different times. Yu-Gi-Oh! began way back in 1998, while Duel Masters was born around 2000 in Japan.

Q. Is it true that Cyborg 009 was cut short at Volume 10 because the creator died?

[redacted]

A. This is only half true! Yes, Shotaro Ishinomori did die in 1998, but by this time he had already finished the Cyborg 009 storyline. Here's an interesting fact - he was also the creator of the Masked Rider series!

Q. What is the address for the Initial D website?

[redacted]

A. Believe it or not, there isn't any official English website. The only one currently online is the official Japanese website @ avexmode.jp/animation/initial/initial.html. Keep in mind that this site is entirely in Japanese! Keep an eye on www.madman.com.au for release information such as Box Two and Three due out sometime this year!

[redacted]

Q. Is there going to be a Digimon Season Five later on this year or early next year? Also is there going to be a Digimon named 'Omechamon'? Thanks!

[redacted]

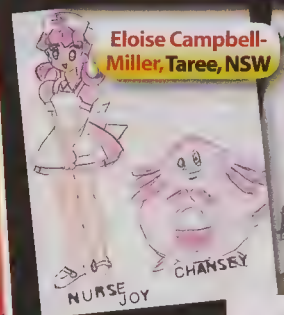

A. Confirmation has just come in from our sources in Japan that a new

[redacted]

is to air in 2006! Whether or not this will come out in Australia remains to be seen. But this depends largely on

Q. Will there ever be battling comps for Pokémon or Yu-Gi-Oh! in Australia?

[illegible]
Port Lincoln, SA

A. There are tournaments for these card games all across Australia. The tournaments are run by Upper Deck Entertainment and the next big event that I'm aware of will be at Supercon Brisbane in April. Be sure to get down there and say hi to all the guys at the Madman booth, including me!

Q. Is there a Gundam Seed DVD box set available? How many episodes are in the set?

Blake Fenton,
Rochedale South, Qld

A. No not yet but it will be available in the second half of this year. Gundam Seed contains a whopping 51 episodes. It still doesn't seem like enough to me. I can't move! Be on the lookout for the box set as all good DVD retailers will be stocking soon!

MAGIC The Gathering

Why we're mad for Magic at K-Zone HQ!

THIS MONTH'S FEATURED COLOUR: RED

Red mana comes from the mountains and the fiery heart of the world itself. Red spellcasters can literally crush the ground beneath their feet or call on furious volcanic activity to destroy their enemies - even if it means they themselves are also destroyed!

DISSENSION

First came Ravnica, then came Guildpact and finally... Dissension! Dissension, the final set in Ravnica is released here in Australia on May 5 and expands on the exciting themes introduced in Guildpact and Ravnica. Dissension has awesome cards for every Magic player from beginner to expert, so look out for this last set in the Ravnica block at your nearest toy and hobby store!

MARS

The Mars rovers: FOR SALE

Two Mars Rovers

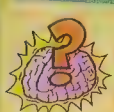

Six wheels and 140 watt solar powered lithium ion battery. Top speed: 180 m per hour. Extras: Pancam, Mini-TES, MS, APXS, MI, RAT and magnets. Travelled just 500,000,000 km each. Must sell. $820,000,000 ono.

Ph: 1-800-NASA

If you're taking a spin on Mars, grab one of these powerful dune buggies. Named Spirit and Opportunity, the two rovers' job is to help scientists suss out what goes down on Mars. Each one measures 1.5 m high, 2.3 m wide, 1.6 m long and weighs 174 kg. As they 'rove' the planet, they examine rocks and soil and send information back to Earth.

NASA blasted them into space back in 2003. They were supposed to survive a 90-day mission before their systems shut down, never to be heard from again. Except the tough little machines are still going strong more than two years later! Bet NASA is pretty stoked with that, considering they forked out $820 million on the entire mission!

They might be high tech and super expensive, but don't expect breakneck speeds. A hundred metres a day is considered good going. In fact, each one has only travelled about 6.5 km since landing in January 2004!

Mars Facts

- NAMED AFTER THE ROMAN GOD OF WAR.
- HAS TWO MOONS: PHOBOS AND DEIMOS.
- A MARTIAN DAY IS CALLED A 'SOL'. A SOL IS 40 MINUTES LONGER THAN AN EARTH DAY.
- A MARTIAN YEAR IS A WHOPPING 687 EARTH DAYS.
- THE TEMP IS BETWEEN 25 AND -120 DEGREES CELSIUS. BRRR!

CARS

roughest cars in the galaxy!

How on Earth do they get to Mars?

1 The rover blasts off inside a Delta II rocket. It has nine rocket motors and a metal nose cone to protect it from the atmosphere.

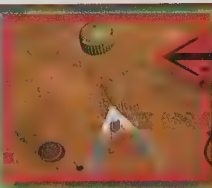

2 In space, the nose cone drops away and the rocket is fired into Earth's orbit. Another blast sends it out of Earth's orbit, heading for Mars at 19,300 km per hour.

That's about 300 times faster than your average car!

3 As the rocket reaches Mars, atmospheric friction slows it to about 1,600 km per hour. Shields on the nose stop it burning up in the intense heat.

4 Less than two minutes before it hits Mars, parachutes open, slowing the craft to 321 km per hour as rockets fire towards the surface.

That's about as fast as a Formula One race car!

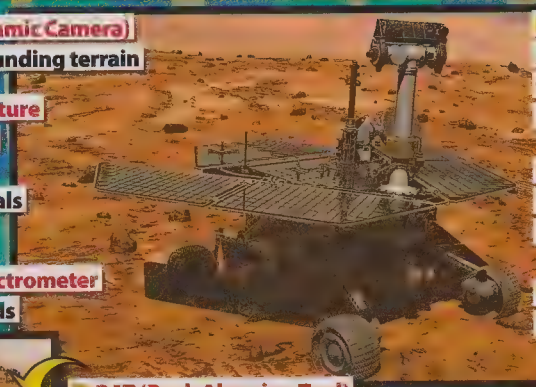

5 With just six seconds to go, a bunch of airbags open. The craft hits the ground at 48 km per hour and bounces about 30 times before stopping.

That's about as fast as your mum drives in town!

6 Ta-da! After seven months and 483 million km, the rover finally pops out on the surface of Mars ready to explore!

The rover has more features than your dad's car!

- Pancam (Panoramic Camera) to show the surrounding terrain
- Mini-TES (Miniature Thermal Emission Spectrometer) to examine minerals using infra-red
- Mössbauer Spectrometer to identify minerals
- APXS (Alpha Particle X-Ray Spectrometer) to examine rock and soil particles
- Magnets to collect magnetic dust particles
- MI (Microscopic Imager) to make close-up images

- RAT (Rock Abrasion Tool) to scrape rock surfaces and expose fresh material

ICE AGE 2: THE MELTDOWN

Available on: PS2, Xbox, GameCube, PC, GBA, Nintendo DS
Rating: G
Release date: April 6
Score:

If the Ice Age films never have enough Scrat for your liking then you'll want to jump on the game ASAP! Yes, our fave sabre-toothed squirrel is here to dig, swim, sniff, spin and roll himself around all in order of scoring nuts. Of course there is also the need to help his 'friends' Manny, Diego and Sid as they try to save everyone from the floods that are coming, but being a hero comes second. Scrat isn't a fighter, but he does have the ability to knock around enemies with his powerful tail and jump. Scrat is a collector! Acorns, walnuts, hazelnuts, whatever the type, he's on it, making Ice Age 2 a nutty experience!

Each area is packed with mini-games and puzzles, like tricking Diego by playing dead or figuring out which bat is which. Also keep an eye out for cracks in walls, vines to climb or geysers, which will launch you into the sky. Scrat's big honker is also useful for sniffing up more nuts, so use it as often as possible. And keep your schnoz to the dirt!

ZATHURA

Available on: PS2, Xbox
Rating: PG
Release date: Out now
Score:

Join Walter and Danny as they drive each other crazy and tumble through space, all while playing a board game called Zathura.

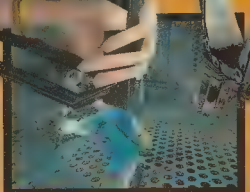

While at first the game may seem a little too simple with little to do except run around the house smashing crates and collecting items, the introduction of the robot drags you into another world expanding the areas you can explore.

The story is very straightforward, but is the type of game that even your younger brother or sister can pick up and immediately get the hang of.

Each area has its own set of puzzles, like trying to work out how to open locked doors and avoid lasers while trying to take out some of the 36 different alien enemies. There are 15 levels some of which you don't get to see in the film and best of all you can control the robot! So get ready to blast your way through, almost, anything!

Ice age: Long-term downturn in the temp of Earth's climate.

LEVEL 2

DRAGON QUEST VIII: JOURNEY OF THE CURSED KING

Available on: PS2
Rating: PG
Release date: April 13
Score:

From Square Enix, the creators of the Final Fantasy series, comes another type of RPG with many of the same traits. Yes, the random battles are back, equipped with pop-up screens that allow you to choose commands to defeat your enemies. While the battle system is simple and easy to get used to, the further you journey into the quest, the more reliant you'll become on knowing the screens extremely well, as tactics start to play a part. What differentiates these stats is that there is a lot of cool stuff like battle counters, miles walked, enemies defeated, conflicts fled and items collected. There is also a tension gauge, which allows you to release more powerful future blows, but makes you skip a turn. This is no small quest, with over 100 hours of gameplay you'll be travelling over various continents and collecting a ridiculous amount of items. Battling everything from Candy Cats and Mischievous Moles to the signature enemy the Slime, attention has been given to every detail, with the strength of the game being the fantastic characters. You play as the dashing hero, originally accompanied by the rather large Yangus, King Trobe who's been turned into a weird Yoda character and a horse that used to be Medea. Of course a wimpy king and horse aren't much help, so later on you'll be joined by powerful warriors Jessica and Angelo. Brighter than Final Fantasy and with its own style, Dragon Quest is a must for RPG fans.

DRAGON BALL Z: SHIN BUDOKAI

Available on: PSP
Rating: PG
Release date: April 14
Score:

The battle is on and this time you'll be taking it everywhere, as DBZ goes to PSP for the first time! Along with all the furious Z Battles is the ability to battle wirelessly in multiplayer mode. What that means for you and your friends is that you can launch counter-attacks, fight super high-speed bouts, manage flight and Ki (energy) all by using the Saiyan Overdrive Fighting System. There are 18 playable characters, including the high volume Pikkon, all of which allow you to perform fast and full-on aerial moves and transform to more powerful Saiyan levels in the seven game modes. What's best about the PSP is the ability to watch movies and one has been thrown in for fans like you, with scenes straight from the Janemba movie.

LARA CROFT TOMB RAIDER: LEGEND

Legend is out on 360 and PSP in May!

Available on: PS2, Xbox, PC
Rating: M
Release date: April 13
Score:

The seventh game in the series looks to be the best with Lara returning once again to the tombs that made her one of the most recognisable gaming characters.

Old nemeses, or could they be friends, are out to stop Lara from finding the pieces of an ancient artefact from her mother's death. However, Lara does come wielding duel pistols and enough martial arts and agility training to get her out of any situation she may find herself in. Whether swimming or swinging Lara combines her physical prowess with her signature moves to look more than impressive. In fact in this game, unlike any other Tomb Raider, the gameplay allows fluid movement in an adventure that takes you from Himalayan mountains to the very British Croft Manor.

Addictive like no other adventure game on the market, Legend not only looks amazing, but will also push you to think about what's at your disposal when solving the environmental puzzles before you. Whether making your way through tombs, caves or buildings Lara's athletic abilities are backed by her large arsenal of equipment. Whether using the magnetic grappling device, binoculars, frag grenades, personal lighting device or communications equipment you'll experience tomb raiding on a new, more exciting level. One minute you'll be dangling from a cliff, the next you'll be taking on bandits while riding across a desert. This is an intelligently designed game which will work your brain, have you glued to the controller and leave you hanging for the next Lara game.

LARA MEET THE NEW LARA!

Each Lara game comes with a Lara Croft model. For Legend, the model is Karima Adebibe. Over the next few months she'll tour the world as the face of one of the most famous gaming characters.

THE EVOLUTION OF LARA

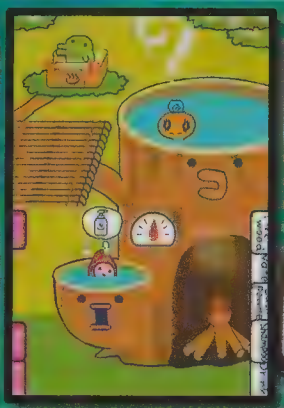

Lara's birthday is February 14, 1968, making her 38!?

TAMAGOTCHI CONNECTS!

The handheld just grew into an enterprising experience.

TAMAGOTCHI CONNEXION CORNER SHOP

Available on: Nintendo DS
Rating: G
Release date: Out now
Score:

This is the most interactive and detailed Tamagotchi game released to date and you can only play it on the interactive Nintendo DS. While your handheld 'egg friend' may have been hours of fun, the DS game allows you to play, invent and create indefinitely and you can even share things with a friend via the wireless component.

WHO'S IN TAMA TOWN?

You begin by choosing between Mametchi, Kuchipatchi and Memetchi as a business partner opening up various types of stores in Patchi Forest, Mame City and GuruGuru Town. Starting in the Flower shop you grow your customer base by pleasing customers (three happy faces) until a very familiar man turns up and hands over 5,000 gotchis, enough to upgrade your shop. As you upgrade you also unlock new stores. There are four levels for each store starting at Putchi, Metchi, Gotchi and then finally with the presentation of a Royal flag, the Royal level. As you go you unlock snacks, clothing, stuff to decorate your room, music and the ability to pass secrets to friends wirelessly.

This is totally addictive and you'll be sneaking in a few extra minutes of gameplay wherever and whenever you can. The only annoying thing is wanting to get through as many customers as possible before your parents send you off to bed.

Aki Maita created Tamagotchi in August 1997. 'Tamago' is

YOUR GUIDE TO TAMAGOTCHI SHOPPING!

Dentist
Even Tamagotchis have to get their teeth fixed sometime! Only these guys seem to have little dudes living inside their teeth. Drill them out, stick on a swab and then brush them!

Bakery
A bit of a difficult one to master! You need to decorate cakes and some of them are quite freaky. HINT: Make sure you take your time when squeezing cream and watch the amount as you only have limited supplies.

Beauty Salon
There are a lot of talented Tamagotchis living around Tama Town and they all like to look good or funny looking! Take the time to pay attention to the way they want to look and then add make-up, hats, glasses and all manner of silly things.

Takoyaki
Kinda like dumplings they're a yummy Japanese treat. It's a long repetitive process but you need to grease the pan, pour the dough, add in all the ingredients, use the pick to separate and turn them and then cover them with all the toppings. Done, phew!

Spa
The most fun of the shops, the Spa is simple and quick! Customers jump in the tree spa bath and ask for various things like drinks, shampoo or bath powders. You help them out and that's all it takes to create a happy customer.

Flower Shop
EASY! Tamagotchis LOVE flowers, they come into the shop with simple requests and you make them up a bunch of flowers. HINT: They usually have only small requests like the colour or size so you can be as creative as you like.

Cleaners
Throw the clothes in the machine, match the powder colour to the clothing, spin and then iron, patch and sew the clothes so that they're like new! HINT: Remember to sew patches onto clothing.

Music Shop
The hardest of the levels you need to use your stylus, both hands and a friend to complete this one! No, you're not selling music, you're making it! So get ready to bang, smash and crash to the beat.

Accessory Shop
Odd but true! Tamagotchis love jewellery made of nuts and precious stones. HINT: Pay close attention to shapes as some are very similar and don't forget to thread the jewellery together.

Dental Salon
This time you're not fixing teeth, you're beautifying them! Yep, throw a grill on your tama or a coloured glaze and they'll be ruling the block.

Florist Jeweller
Just like the Accessory shop your role is to make jewellery, but this time with crystals and flowers. Where do Tamagotchis wear these wacky things?

Alternative Ending

The game must already have been completed in order for this to work. Right at the end of the game when Ico wakes up on the beach, go all the way over to where the cliffs are and continue your way up the beach. Along the way you should come across a large rock and there should also be a couple of watermelons situated near this rock. Pick up one of the watermelons and proceed up the beach until you reach Yorda. You will now be treated to a slightly humorous end video. This does not work on the US version of the game.

Star Wars-like Weapon

With two-player mode enabled, play the game through the waterfall and reach an area where you get the mace by throwing a ball into a box at the first play. This time a Star Wars-like weapon will fly in instead of mace.

This weapon is very powerful and will kill the shadow within one or two hits. And the weapon will be prolonged to triple the size of the sword if you grabbed Yorda's hand when attacking.

GAMERS' HELP DESK

Hi Game Zone,
I am having so much trouble in Pokémon Sapphire. I have tried hard to get Rayquaza but nobody has given me the right answer. So I thought I would ask the number one mag on the planet. Please tell me!
Mitchell Lowry, Qld

Hey Mitchell,
We can help you out! Rayquaza is Level 70, so it is the highest level legendary in this game. To get it, you first need to get the Mach Bike. Go to Mauville and talk to the bike owner to get it. Then, fly to Pacifidlog Town and surf east. Surf north when you see an opening in the rocks to the north. Surf north there and enter the cave. Go inside the next pillar. There are six floors. Floor 1: Easy, just head around to the stairs. Floor 2: There are cracks in the floor. To get past them, head full speed through them. If you stop, you will fall down a floor. Head to the stairs. Floor 3: Head to the stairs. Floor 4: This is hard, you have to go through all the cracks at once without stopping. Head through and fall down the crack where the middle stairs are. When you have fallen down, there should be stairs right in front of you. Go up them. Then go left and climb the stairs. Floor 5: Just head around to the stairs. Save and head up the stairs to the sixth floor. Floor 6: Here is Rayquaza. He is Dragon/Flying and also the best Pokémon is this game, stat-wise. Take down his HP with Electric or Ice, and keep catching Ultra Balls. You can use the Master Ball, but I'd save it for Latias/Latios.

Go, Gamoja!

Strap yourself in for the ultimate battle between good and evil!

GAMOJA RISE AGAIN!

A momentous event occurs – gulp – every 5,000 years. All the planets in the cosmos align, summoning a race of beasts from beneath the Earth for a fierce battle between good and evil. The beasts, known as Gamoja, have been studied by historians for ages. Battle data going back thousands of years tells us that, so far, the good Gamoja are winning the battle, but only just. Can they hold on or will the bad guys nab victory?

ULTIMOJA

Of the 46 types of Gamoja, only one is yet to be defeated. At 999 million-years-old, Ultimoja is the oldest and wisest of all Gamoja. Equally admired, respected and feared, Ultimoja is devious, determined and uses brute strength to defeat all who dare to challenge it. There are only 1,000 Ultimoja in existence

MONSTERS ON THE LOOSE

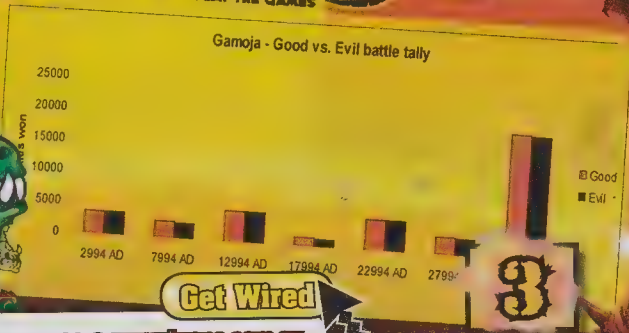

There are nine Gamoja species – Jungle, Insects, Ocean, Fire Breathers, Three-Headed, Flyers, Cave Dwellers, Cyclops and Snow. Each one has five sub-species – two young, common Gamoja, two older, rare ones and the oldest, ultra rare Gamoja. All 45 Gamoja have a colourful, good twin and a dark, evil twin. Plus, there's the super ultra rare Ultimoja.

THE FREEZE IS UPON US!

Ice Age 2: The Meltdown breezes onto the screen sending a shiver of excitement through all of us!

THE SECOND COMING!

Mammoth Manny, slothy Sid and dangerous Diego set out on another icy adventure. However, this time things are changing!

The ice is melting, which at first creates a wonderful new world for our fearless threesome until they realise that that much ice will create enough water to flood the valley they call home. Now they must warn everyone before the disaster hits.

On the journey they encounter some new friends and an old buddy, including three possums, Ellie and her brothers Eddie and Crash. Well, Ellie thinks she's a possum only she looks more like a mammoth! There's also Fast Tony and Grandpa Molehog. And yes, Scrat is back and climbing his way to new highs and lows in search of food!

WILL YOU RECOGNISE THE VOICES?

Take a close listen to Crash and Eddie, two daredevil possums who like to pull pranks 24/7. Crash's voice is courtesy of Seann William Scott, aka Bo Duke in The Dukes of Hazzard. His lovable partner in crime Eddie is voiced by Josh Peck from the Nickelodeon TV series Drake and Josh.

A MAMMOTH ATTITUDE

Grumpy Manny is desperate for a family in Ice Age 2. Only trouble is, nobody's seen another mammoth walking the Earth for a very long time. Manny thinks he's the last one. But is he? Enter Ellie (voiced by Queen Latifah) – a mammoth with some serious identity issues. To make matters worse, Manny and Ellie aren't exactly the best of friends and fight instantly almost every time they see each other.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY!

While everyone is tight-lipped about the exact cost of creating Ice Age 2, estimates are between $75 and $80 million. As Scrat would say, "That's a lot of nuts!"

LOUD MOUTHS

In case you're wondering, all of the voices are recorded separately and rarely do actors voice their characters at the same time. Although Seann and Josh, aka Crash and Eddie, did meet up one day to record their voices at the same time and according to Ice Age 2 producer Lori Forte, the two guys went crazy. "We have a lot of fun footage of them working together and they were hilarious. They took a lot of chances and you'll hear that when you see Ice Age 2." Also expect to get a closer look at their antics when the DVD is released.

DID U KNOW?

Scrat is voiced by Chris Wedge the director and brains behind Robots and the first Ice Age.

THE COLD, HARD FACTS!

The No. 1 stop for chilly film facts has to be Ice Age 2 director Carlos Saldanha and producer Lori Forte. We take a look behind the screens.

STRAIGHT FROM THE MAMMOTH'S MOUTH

Director Carlos Saldanha says this time around it's all going to look a little different to the first Ice Age flick. "In Ice Age 2: The Meltdown it's a little more lush. There'll be more green, more forest than we've seen before."

SINK OR SWIM!

Get ready for some serious action too. The director says, "there's going to be a lot done with water and it's going to be spectacular. There's going to be a lot of action and some amazing scenes and special effects with water."

EIGHT BELOW

After spending months freezing on the Canadian set of his new movie Eight Below, Paul Walker is back in his sunny hometown of Los Angeles, California. Paul talked to us about what it was REALLY like having to work with all those dogs!

KZ: How did you prepare for the physical challenges of working on Eight Below?

PW: I play a lot of sports and I think it helped. Getting up to the mountains and the altitude, there really wasn't much preparation for it. I live by the coast, so I knew it would take a little while for me to adapt. Coming home I felt like I could have run a marathon!

My legs were a good six or seven centimetres bigger than they've ever been.

KZ: Was it hard working with all those dogs?

PW: I have a dog myself so I guess that's a good thing when it came to doing a movie like this. These dogs though, sometimes they'd fight and I'd have to get in the middle to break it up. The trainers were scared because they thought I'd get bitten!

KZ: When you were growing up, was acting something you always wanted to do?

PW: Not really. I loved LEGO and my mum thought I'd be an engineer. I wanted to be a marine biologist.

CHILLING BACK WITH A DVD!

If you can't make it to the cinemas then get fired up with the Goblet of Fire DVD. We spoke to two of the most loved characters in the world – Ron Weasley (Rupert Grint) and Hermione Granger (Emma Watson)!

HARRY POTTER AND THE GOBLET OF FIRE

RUPERT GRINT

KZ: Is this a scarier movie than the first three?

RUPERT: They all get scarier as they go along. There are some pretty nasty things in this one, like dragons. The main challenge for Ron was girls, but I did these underwater scenes which were really fun. I'd never done anything like that before. I actually enjoyed it, but it got a bit scary and claustrophobic at times. Basically they take you down and you have to learn to take your mask off and open your eyes. It was tough, but at least it was warm water.

KZ: Another two books are out. Do you check up on what Ron's going to do next?

RUPERT: Yeah, it's fun, although I haven't read the sixth one yet. People say it's pretty good and I'll read it soon. But someone's told me who dies in the next one which is annoying.

KZ: Tell me about your fake Driving Lessons?

RUPERT: It's a little film I made immediately after finishing the fourth [HP]. It was nice to do something different. I play a sort of loner. He has pushy parents, looks after a retired actress and is vastly different to Ron. He's very shy. I got to drive a car as well and I'm learning that now for real!

ZATHURA: A Space Adventure

Deep space busts boredom and brings on the chills.

IN CINEMAS: NOW!

With approximately 1,000 billion stars in our galaxy, what are the chances of Zorgons attacking your house? Pretty high if it's been hurled into space by the Zathura board game! We got the inside story from the ONLY actors to travel the universe without leaving their couch!

Most older brothers have the monopoly on cool, but at 13-years-old Josh Hutcherson (Walter) hangs with celebs, makes tons of money and has just been sent spinning outta control into space – he's gotta have an advantage over the rest!

KZ: Do you have a brother in real life?

JH: Yes, I have a little brother and we're exactly like Danny and Walter. We fight constantly about him cheating and then he wants to do something with me and I'd rather do something else, but I have to play with him 'cos my parents make me and then we end up fighting some more!

KZ: How much of the movie was computer-generated?

JH: One of the great parts about the movie is that it wasn't completely computer-generated, like most special effects in other new movies. It was like a lot of older movies, where they had cheesy costumes, but this time it was more realistic and was awesome 'cos we had alien Zorgons and robots that were really in front of us and we didn't have to imagine them.

KZ: You worked with Tom Hanks (The Polar Express) and Will Ferrell (Kicking and Screaming). What did you learn from them?

JH: I've learnt a lot from all the actors I've worked with – the way they carry themselves and how professional they are. But when we weren't filming I had to go to school so it's not like I had much time to hang with them.

KZ: What were the physical challenges of playing Walter?

JH: For me the hardest thing was the meteor shower 'cos we had it all choreographed and something would actually explode in front of us at every step, so we had to memorise the steps and go to the right place at the right time!

For 15-year-old Kristen Stewart being cryogenically frozen is just part of her job! She plays Walter and Danny's sleep-prone older sister Lisa in this space adventure into the great unknown.

KZ: Do you know the pain of having younger brothers?

KS: Not really, I have an older brother and we're really close but when we were younger he wanted nothing to do with me. I wanted to be just like him. I wanted to go out with his friends and he treated me just like my character treats her younger brothers. But then I turned 13 and he finally realised I was cool so we became good friends.

KZ: How'd they freeze you for the movie?

KS: Stan Winston, who's won Oscars for his special effects, made a model of me and did an amazing job. The studio did a computer scan of my body and then they took mouldings and did each individual arm and leg, torso and head and then they painted me. It was creepy when I saw the frozen version of myself. I didn't ask to take it home!

KZ: What were the biggest challenges in doing the stunts?

KS: We got to do a lot of wire stuff which was a very unnatural feeling flying over stages, but I thought it was cool learning how to do it. There was one scene where Lisa is sucked into a black hole and it took a lot of training before I got to do that one and it does make you feel kind of sick in your stomach, but the end result looks amazing!

KZ: Who do you think are the heroes of the movie?

KS: I think everyone in the film becomes a hero because in the beginning they fight all the time and don't really care about each other. Then they go through this really scary adventure and realise they need to band together and be a family and take care of each other. I think it takes a hero to admit something like that and push past the fighting.

MERCURY Lee Harding: It's obvious that Lee likes things hot! And while Mercury isn't the hottest planet in our solar system we wanted to keep him safe from Idol-loving Paris!

VENUS Paris Hilton: As women are from Venus, we figure this Hilton heir would be able to stay outta boy trouble for a while!

MARS Brit + Hubby Kev Federline: Basically for the same reasons that we're sending Paris off to Venus!

JUPITER Daniel Radcliffe: While we'd hate to see him go, Dan's valiant efforts to save Hogwarts from the powerful Lord Voldemort in Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire have earned him the right to tackle the Great Red Spot of Jupiter!

SATURN Nicole Richie: After being dumped by fiancée DJ AM, Nic could borrow one of Saturn's rings for a pretend engagement!

URANUS Britney Spears: She spends most of her life getting round in ugg boots so we figure Brit would at least be dressed appropriately for this icy planet.

NEPTUNE Hilary Duff and Joel Madden: This steamy love couple really need to cool it down a bit when in public. Chill guys!

PLUTO Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen: Just 'cos it would take them a lifetime to get back to Earth!

TRADEMARK MOVE: Multiple German Suplexes

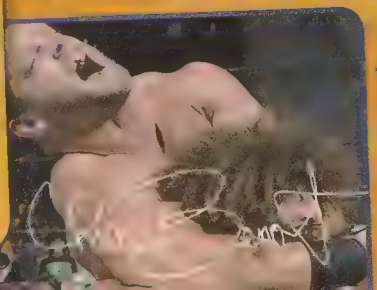

Quotes:

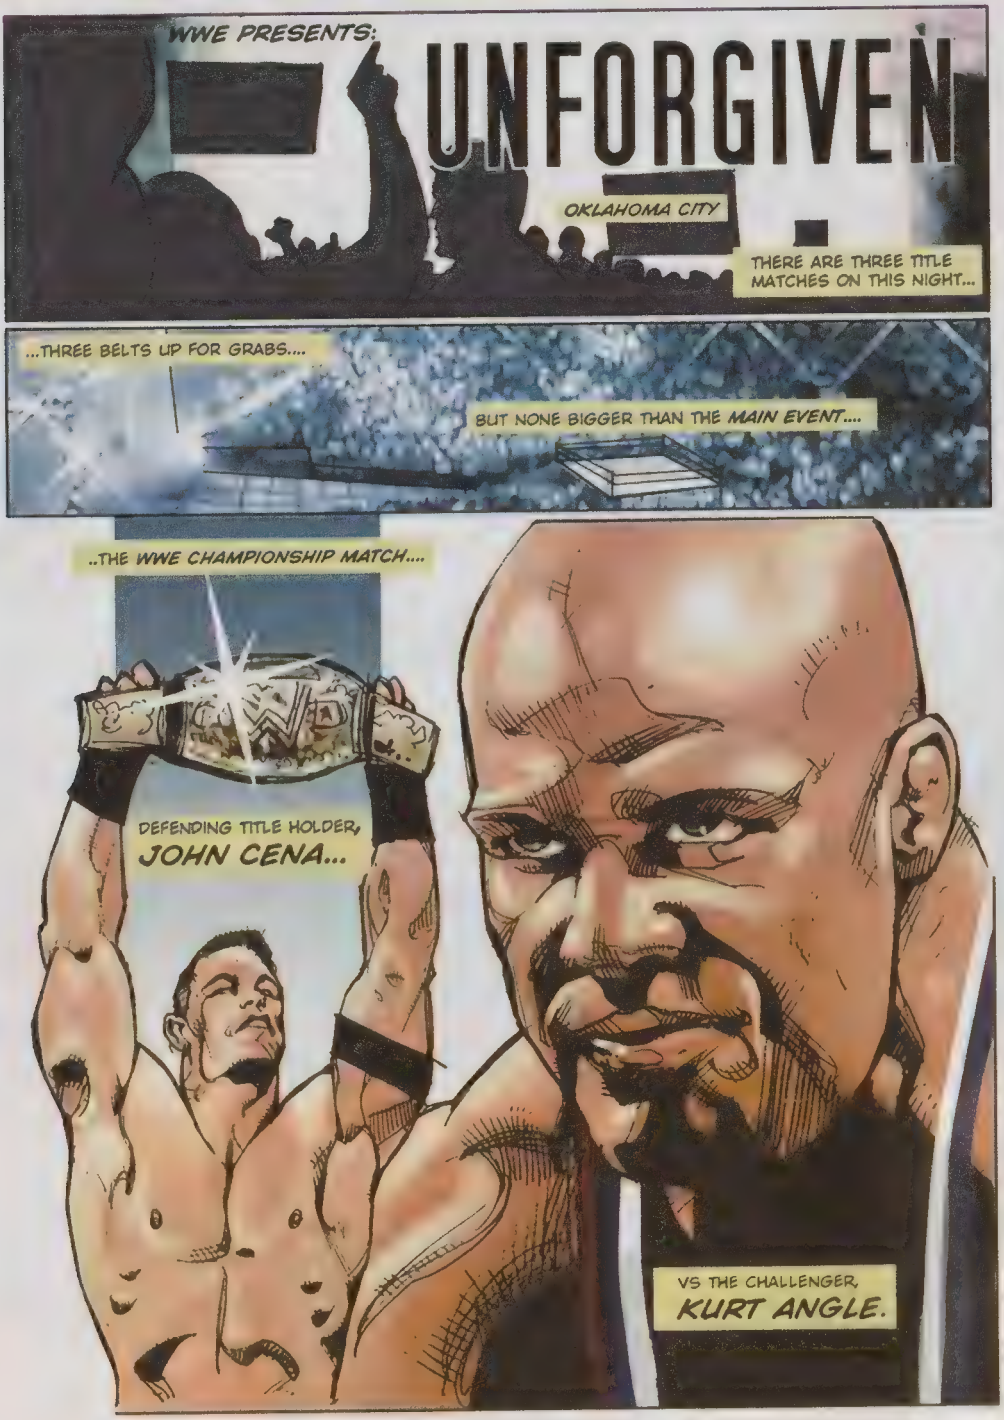

- "I AM THE GREATEST TECHNICAL WRESTLER IN THE HISTORY OF THE WWF!"
- "PROVE ME WRONG!"

DID U KNOW?

The Canadian Crippler tag came after breaking the neck of extreme wrestler Sabu.

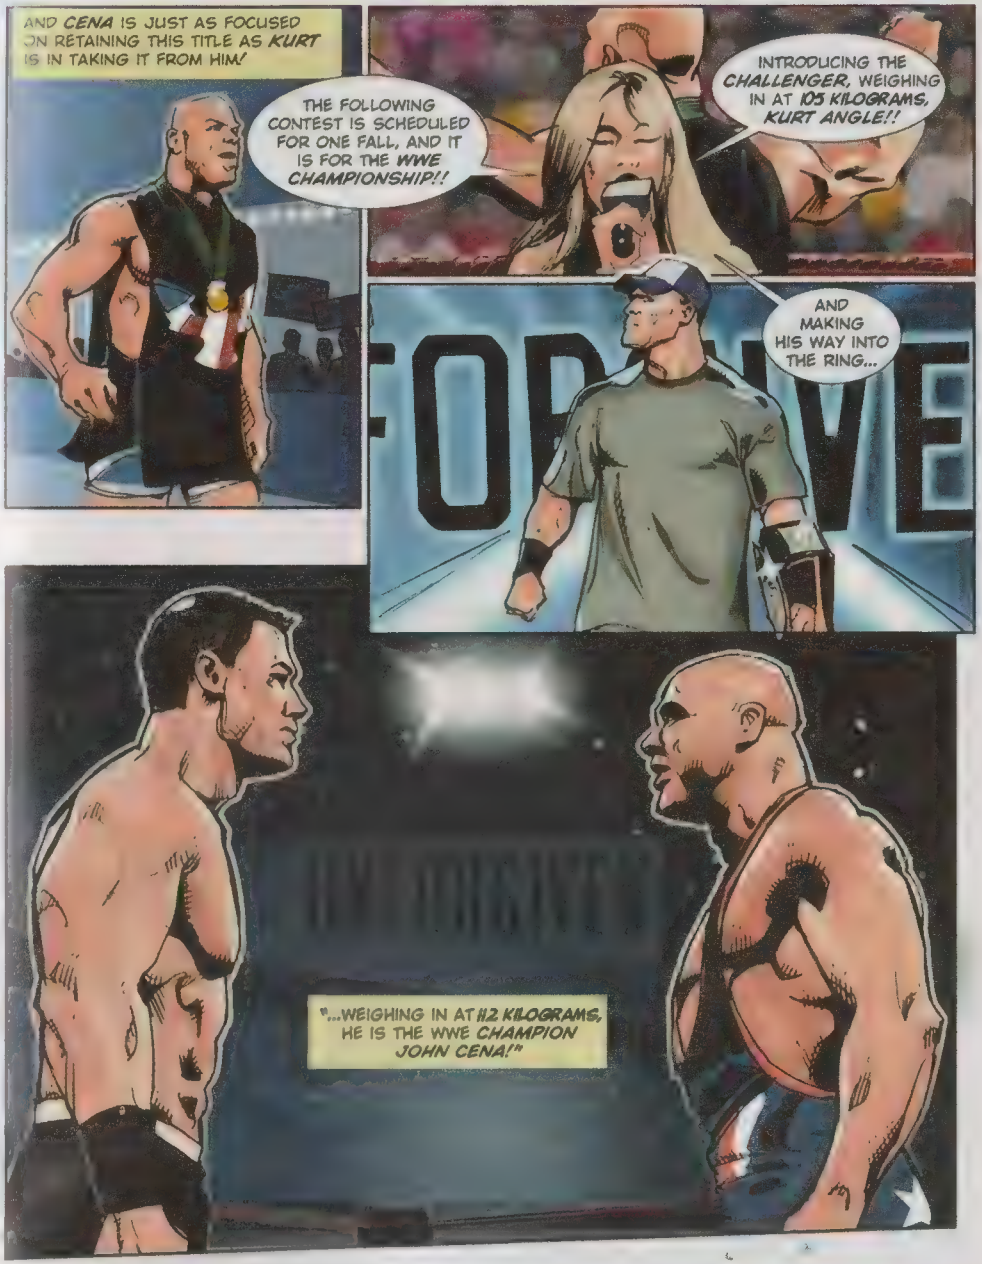

At the 2005 SummerSlam he defeated Orlando Jordan in just 25.5 seconds to become US Champion – the fastest title change from a match ever!

WWE PRESENTS:
UNFORGIVEN
OKLAHOMA CITY
THERE ARE THREE TITLE MATCHES ON THIS NIGHT...
...THREE BELTS UP FOR GRABS....
BUT NONE BIGGER THAN THE MAIN EVENT....
..THE WWE CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH....
DEFENDING TITLE HOLDER, JOHN CENA...
VS THE CHALLENGER, KURT ANGLE.

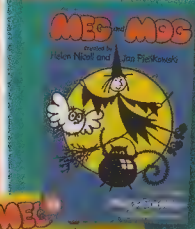

THERE IS SOME HISTORY TO THIS MATCH...
THANKS MAINLY TO THIS MAN..
ERIC BISCHOFF
HE WOULD LOVE NOTHING MORE THAN TO SEE JOHN CENA GONE...
HE ORGANISED THE FIRST LOSER GETS FIRED ON THE SPOT TITLE MATCH....
SMAK!
AND AFTER DOING JUST ABOUT EVERYTHING HE COULD TO SEE JOHN CENA LOSE
..AND DESPITE GIVING EVERY ASSISTANCE TO CENA'S OPPONENT....
JOHN CENA WON, KEEPING HIS JOB.... AND HIS TITLE.
HEY, CENA!
AND THEN..
...SAY HELLO TO THE NUMBER ONE CONTENDER...
FOR YOUR WWE TITLE....
"KURT ANGLE!"

AMATEUR WRESTLING HALL OF FAMER, TWO TIMES NCAA WRESTLING CHAMPION
...FOUR TIMES WWE CHAMPION
.. AND THE ONLY GOLD MEDALLIST TO COMPETE IN THE WWE...
KURT ANGLE IS MORE AGGRESSIVE, MORE FOCUSED, MORE OBSESSED THAN HE'S EVER BEEN AT ANY TIME OF HIS CAREER!
IT'S A CONTRAST IN STYLES... ANGLE AS FUNDAMENTALLY SOUND AS ANYBODY WHO'S EVER STEPPED IN A WWE RING...
AND JOHN CENA, A STREETFIGHTER WITH NO BACKWARD GEAR....
